Even back in the 18th century, French poet Honoré de Balzac wrote that a keen observer can always gain a sense of who he or she is dealing by glancing at that person's shoes.

While this may not be quite as easy any more in our age of sneakers, loafers and the used look, one factor still applies:

„Well-kept shoes simply bring more brilliance to their wearer's personality.“

Shoes complete and individualise our appearance – and they convey messages. Clean footwear conveys an appreciation of one's fellows and the situation at hand.

This has been our philosophy for more than 100 years. HEUTE shoe shine machines safeguard values and look after your good style.

Brilliantly Prepared

For the brainstorming session with the team. The luncheon with the board of directors. The presentation to the client. And for the trip to the theatre in the evening.

Shoe shine machines by HEUTE see to it that the day begins with a fresh shine. From toe to heel – and from one ear to the other. And they are always and everywhere at your service, whenever a brilliant performance is expected.

Shine with a smile

Our quiet servants are as varied as the people who use them each day. With a variety of characters and talents, and in outfits that range from classic to modern, they perform their tasks in the best buildings worldwide.

And they come with brilliant references: Hand-made in Germany, backed by more than 100 years of experience and guaranteed dependability. For satisfied customers, from top to toe.
